PROGRAM STRUCTURE
The treatment team will develop an individualized treatment plan for each participant which coincides with the phase system.

Participants will receive services for education, counseling, and other needs that are provided by various, community organizations.

Phase System – The program consists of six phases with each phase having standards and conditions that must be accomplished in order to progress to the next phase. The six phases should be accomplished within three years.

Supervision Monitoring – The case manager will monitor each participant’s compliance within the program and progress through the phases. The case manager will work closely with the program manager and service providers.

Program Resolution – At the end of the program, the participant will have appropriate housing, transportation, medical and mental health treatment, and a sustainable income.
OVERVIEW
The RISE Program seeks to identify women who have a history of experiencing significant trauma in their past which has contributed to their involvement in the criminal justice system. The program offers offenders an individual treatment program that is monitored by a case manager. RISE is an intervention program that is designed to divert participants from criminal activity and into a safe and healthy lifestyle. If an individual possesses a great likelihood of achieving a positive lifestyle change through participation in the program, she is offered admission and an individual treatment program will be designed to meet her needs.

MISSION
To identify and engage willing, high-risk, nonviolent, chronic offenders with effective community resources thereby diverting them from the criminal justice system and restoring them to a safe, healthy, and self-sufficient lifestyle.

GOALS
Our program goals are to identify women who are at high-risk within the legal system and possess multiple needs for sustainable, independent living. The program seeks to assess the needs of the individual, offer assistance and guidance, aid in the progression through the program, and provide them with a successful treatment plan that can empower the participant to lead a crime free, substance abuse free, and mentally stable lifestyle that is productive and sustainable. The participants in our program must desire this change and be willing to make the sacrifices necessary to lead a healthy lifestyle.
